

K: So is she worried about our future?

Lesson 6 Sec. 3&4 Oct. 2007

ID( ) Name( )

G: 全く心配はしていませんよ!

Her hope lies in young people.

There are four reasons. The first point is that they can use their brains and find ways to live comfortable life for human and nature. And they want to solve problems and have own determinations. The third point is that they have the indomitable spirit and never give up. The last point is amazing resilience of Nature.

That's why / she decided to start "Roots & Shoots".

K: What's that? Will you please tell me details of that group?

G: 始まり: 1991年東アフリカ(タンザニア)で高校生のグループ

名前の理由: "roots"は強く、地下に徐々に根を伸ばす。

"shoots"は小さくて弱そうに見える。

but,

レンガの壁を突き破ることもできる。

K: So, it's a club for young people / (try) to solve environmental problems.

G: That's right.

They now have groups in 87 countries,

with different activities in different places.

具体例: 植林、リサイクル活動を始めること、

家のない人々のために服を集めること、

恵まれない子供達と知識を共有すること

The world is a better place /

when you c--- a sad person to s---

when you make a dog w--- its tail, or when you w--- a thirsty plant.

That's what Roots & Shoots all about.

K: Some final words before we finish our interview, ?

G: We humans are not so different from chimpanzees.

I know chimpanzees can make tools like humans and eat meats, but there are some different points. In her own opinions, the most important point is that we can speak. So we can use language and share with each other. We can make greater ideas to solve problems. So everyone has a role to play and make a something difference.

I think we should not only know about environmental problems but we also start thinking what I can for our earth. Do you want to make the world a better place to live for humans and natures and the environment? Maybe everyone think so.

If I have a chance to interview Jane Goodall, I'd like to ask her this question.

"What do you think that we can do small things to save the world?"
of the opinion

Self-evaluation (A B C D)	Comments: It was difficult to make natural and smooth interview. 自然な話し方や声は難しく、練習をたくさんした。各メンバーには工夫ができていた。7月20日発表に緊張が少なくなった。発表した活動もよく思っていた。
